

WHO'S TELLING YOUR STORY?

At Kelly+Lodestro Global Relations, we specialize in global public relations for market leaders who want their story told. Emerge.

While the egg has a most interesting shape, it easily can go unnoticed when sitting among its own kind. For eggs, this is usually not a problem. For companies that want to be market leaders, however, it can bear serious consequences.

That's why at Kelly+LoDestro Global Relations, our mission is to tell your story with high tech public relations designed to increase marketshare and mindshare.

We'll help you make it on the short list. Expand your footprint in the marketplace. Amplify your message. Excite your stockholders. Grow your business.

How can we tell your story?

Kelly+LoDestro Global Relations is a niche agency specializing in high tech public relations. We're staffed by senior-level PR experts who understand technology trends, engineering jargon and global infrastructures. Combined with strong media and analyst relationships, our virtual business model harnesses the talents of top writers and allows us to provide high level public relations at a smart investment.
